

Essextec: A Winner of IBM's Fast Track 2006 Revenue Challenge

Award Puts Essextec in Top One Percent of IBM Business Partners

Rochelle Park NJ, March 2007 - IBM has recently announced Essex Technology Group (Essextec) is a winner of IBM's Fast Track 2006 Contest.

This achievement puts Essextec in the top 1% of IBM business partners for 2006. Essextec demonstrated an outstanding second half performance in 2006 in the $20-50M. The attainment puts Essextec in elite company, per the IBM award announcement.

IBM will recognize the winners of this contest at their annual IBM PartnerWorld Conference to be held in April in St. Louis, MO.

IBM has congratulated Essextec on this significant recognition and has praised Essextec for its commitment to sales leadership, business strategy, and execution.

"This award validates the quality of people here at Essextec who strive everyday to serve their customers with the highest standards of sales leadership, technical consulting, and customer service. We are rewarded in the marketplace by both long-term customer business as well as earning new accounts" states Jim Torney, President, Essex Technology Group.

About Essex Technology Group, Inc.

Headquartered in Rochelle Park, NJ, Essex Technology Group, Inc. (Essextec), a privately held company, is focused on helping business leaders and technology decision makers in the northeast region of the U.S. improve their business performance with technology. The company is an infrastructure consulting firm providing a variety of services which include requirements definition, continuous operations consulting, implementation of IBM servers, storage, software, managed services, education and training. Our success with customized total solutions for optimizing IBM technology for business advantage, has earned Essextec several prestigious IBM Business Partner Awards, including the "IBM Americas Business Partner Leadership Award" and the "IGS Services Sales Leadership Award" For more information, visit www.essextec.com